

Soap for Oily Skin

ALEPPO SOAP WITH 35% LAUREL

PURIFYING

ANTISEPTIC

MATTIFYING

ANTIBACTERIAL

SOOTHING

This authentic Aleppo soap is a great ally for skin prone to shine, blemishes, blackheads or breakouts. Made from 100% plant-based oils, it is enriched with 35% laurel berry oil – an active ingredient renowned for its purifying, cleansing, balancing and healing properties, while fully respecting the skin. Thanks to its natural richness, this soap also provides excellent nourishing and moisturizing action. Gentle and effective every day, it is suitable for both face and body.

Aleppo Soap “The Exceptional”

35% LAUREL BELLY OIL

€9.45

View product

Voir le produit

Properties and benefits

- act as a regulator of sebum production by the sebaceous glands
- remove impurities, toxins and pollution residue, and unclog pores
- soothe irritation, redness and feelings of discomfort
- purify and cleanse the skin's surface and limit the proliferation of bacteria responsible for blemishes
- tighten enlarged pores and refine skin texture
- nourish and moisturize without weighing down or clogging pores
- boost cell regeneration and speed up skin repair

Please note that Aleppo soap can be used on the face, the body and even as a shampoo for oily and/or dandruff-prone hair (maximum twice a week)

BODY

FACE

HAIR

Tips

Oily skin that is under attack – from pollution, unsuitable care or overly stripping cosmetics – reacts by producing even more sebum... exactly what we are trying to avoid.

This superfatted, ultra-gentle soap contains no alcohol, no fragrance and no irritants. It is perfectly suited to your skin type. It cleanses gently, soothes and preserves the skin's natural balance, for a beauty routine that is both effective and respectful.

The ingredients in this “oily skin” soap

Laurel berry oil

Rich in vitamins, minerals, proteins, fatty acids and lauric acid, laurel berry oil is a natural treasure for the skin. It is among the best active ingredients in cosmetics, thanks to its many virtues: purifying, soothing, cleansing, antiseptic, antimicrobial, antioxidant... the list goes on! It is particularly valuable for relieving blemishes and soothing skin problems such as eczema, acne, psoriasis, fungal infections, dandruff and itching.

Olive oil

Olive oil is a concentrate of benefits! Rich in essential acids and fatty substances – including the precious omegas 9, 6 and 3 – and in vitamins A, C, D, E and K, it is full of virtues: emollient, softening, antioxidant, moisturizing, calming, nourishing...

A skincare and beauty must-have that works wonders on dry skin, and on oily, normal and combination skin too 😊.

My advice

Choosing Aleppo soap also means taking advantage of the wide range of Aleppo soaps suited to your skin’s changing needs. With laurel berry oil concentrations ranging from 10% to 35%, this range of products allows you to follow treatment courses and a truly evolving routine, depending on the phases your skin goes through.

When sebum production surges and/or during a flare-up (pimples or acne), opt for an Aleppo soap with a 35% concentration. Purifying, cleansing, antiseptic, it helps rebalance the skin in depth. Use it, however, 1 to 2 times a week at most.

During calm or stable phases, opt for a 20% or 12% soap. Richer in olive oil, its “hydrating” effect softens and nourishes the skin gently.

Why is this oily skin soap different?

Aleppo soap is one of the best natural skincare products. Renowned for centuries, it stands out for its perfect balance of naturalness, balancing efficacy and gentleness.

Natural

Made solely from high-quality natural ingredients – olive oil, laurel berry oil, water and plant-based soda – this soap has a rarely seen natural composition. No chemical additives, no controversial ingredients or potential endocrine disruptors in sight: it respects your oily skin without ever aggressing it.

Balancing

Laurel berry oil is essential for skin seeking balance. This signature ingredient of the Aleppo bar purifies, soothes and cleanses naturally, while helping to regulate excess sebum. All of this in a gentle, effective and 100% natural way, to restore clear, healthy skin without compromise.

Gentleness

Aleppo soap, naturally superfatted and ultra-gentle, deeply cleanses the skin while respecting its hydrolipidic film. This gentleness is essential: it can help restore and preserve the skin's balance, avoid drying out the epidermis and, paradoxically, avoid increasing sebum production – a common reflex when the skin is aggressed or dried out.

This soap is for you if...

- You are looking for a 100% natural-origin cleanser with no controversial ingredients to cleanse oily skin.
- You are seeking a cosmetic that adapts to the condition of your skin (the different laurel percentages make this adaptability possible).
- You are looking for a healthy, economical alternative (with a creamy lather) to your traditional shower gel.

This soap is not for you if...

- You have an acute dermatological problem (severe acne, purulent eczema, acute dermatosis, etc.).
- You are allergic or intolerant to any of the soap’s components.

Characteristics

Weight	200 g bar.
Origin	Syria (artisanal production).
Drying	Drying level: Very good. Natural drying for 9 months.
Appearance	Solid soap , rectangular and irregular in appearance, stamped with the Syrian soap factory’s seal.
Storage	Keeps very well in a dry place at room temperature.
Fragrance	Scent: light, natural and typical of laurel soaps. No added fragrance.
Expiry date	36 months after opening.
Manufacturing	Traditional hot saponification in a cauldron.
Color	Green to beige-brown on the outside (jade green at the center).
Composition (INCI)	Sodium olivate, Aqua, Laurus nobilis, Sodium chloride, Sodium hydroxide.

Also use in your anti-oily skin routine

Cold-process soap
nigella

This cold-process nigella soap combines the purity of plant oils with the balancing power of black cumin. Naturally purifying and comforting, it helps regulate excess sebum while respecting the sensitivity of the skin.
shop it →

Scented Aleppo soap
lavender & aloe vera

For all fragrance lovers, this artisanal, plant-based soap is enriched with vegetable oils and essential oils. This composition will take care of your skin and scent your body.
shop it →

Scented Aleppo soap
Damask & Istanbul roses

This rose soap bar offers balancing and purifying care, ideal for oily skin. Gentle, refined and naturally scented, it cleanses deeply, soothes the skin and leaves a subtle floral veil.
shop it →

Answers to your questions

How can you recognize oily skin?

Oily skin shows an excess of sebum all over the body, in a uniform, homogeneous and stable way. On the face, there are shiny, oily areas across the whole face, and not only on the T-zone (forehead, nose, chin).

How do you choose a soap suited to oily skin?

For oily skin, it is important to choose a gentle soap that is non-irritating and alcohol-free, and that cleanses effectively without drying out the skin. Excessive dryness can paradoxically stimulate sebum overproduction. They should also contain specific ingredients to regulate excess sebum and purify the skin.

What are the benefits of laurel berry oil for the skin?

Laurel berry oil offers many benefits for the skin: purifying and antibacterial, soothing and anti-inflammatory, moisturizing and astringent, regenerating and cleansing. It is beneficial for problem skin and for skin that tends to be dry, atopic, acne-prone, or affected by psoriasis and eczema. However, it is important to note that laurel berry oil is very powerful and must never be used pure on the skin.

View product

Voir le produit